2018*

Despite the overwhelming importance of growth to long-term success, not all universities can grow and diversify, and those that do will face a host of associated challenges. This year's SUMS Annual Conference will explore ideas around this paradox – we can't all grow in all directions, so how do we prioritise consolidation and development to ensure financial sustainability and value for our students, staff and communities?

The Annual SUMS Consulting Conference and Exhibition brings together an elite group of leaders and decision makers from across the sector. Join us for a day of insightful idea sharing and focused conversation. Our programme will include thought-provoking discussions, which will address today's biggest challenges.

Why Come to the SUMS Conference?

- Hear from leading experts in growth and consolidation from within and outside the sector.
- Take away ideas and potential solutions from other successful universities.
- Learn how SUMS can support you to identify and implement intelligent solutions to your growth and consolidation challenges.
- Interact with a diverse group of over 70 sector leaders representing all university mission groups for engaging discussion and idea generation.
- Engage with sector providers of in-demand support services via a bespoke exhibition.
